

There are many upcoming events this semester to keep on our calendars in CHHS. The first is the basketball game on February 23. A radio program by CHHS including the Dean will be on during half time, with a discussion about homelessness. There will be an email sent out with details and links to reduced-price tickets. Everyone in the college is encouraged to help publicize and encourage attendance at the event.

A town hall event will be held on March 6 from 5-7pm for faculty to come together to discuss and define topics for the roundtable community discussions in April. Four faculty members have been identified to lead the four different proposed topics Natalie Cheffer, Rashida Crutchfield, and Tara Gruenewald. The event will be held at The Pointe on campus. An email invitation is to come, with instructions to rank order the discussion topics based on the ones you are most interested in. Students will also be recruited to be involved in the discussion. The Round Table Discussion will be held on April 21 from 7-10am at The Pointe as well. Faculty will be placed at each discussion table based on their personal research priorities developed at the town hall.

Also, core values have been selected. There will be a vote for faculty and students to select the final core values and their descriptions as part of the college identity. Please be on the lookout for the email to vote.

V. Academic Senate Report (Dr. Cormack)

The University has identified 53 students studying at CSULB that are from the seven campus, and the nervousness around using that title for fear of losing Federal funding. They also discussed adding 3-year lecturers with at least six years of service to search committees for Associate Deans and Deans on campus.

Virtual Tours

Tiffanye and the college are working on contacting Academic Technology to film the virtual tours.

Student Success Committee

There has been some feedback on the student success committee through email over the winter break. Dr. Ostergren and Tiffanye took what the Faculty Council recommended and created the outline of a document for the ad hoc committee on student success. The discussion was opened to setting parameters on the composition of the committee and terms served. It was recommended that lecturers be allowed to serve, as they are instrumental in serving the targeted groups freshmen and sophomores. The final ives from all different schools/departments open to all ranks, preferably with at least one member representing lecturers, tenure-track, and tenured faculty. Student representatives were defined as undergraduates, and terms were defined. The Student Success ad hoc Committee (a97(*nBF3 12 Tf1 0
