File: Internship Program

The following policy was recommended by the Academic Senate in its meeting of May 7, 1987, and received the concurrence of the President on May 19, 1987. The Commission on Teacher Credentialing approved this program on August 3, 1987.

SUBJECT: PUPIL PERSONNEL SERVICES INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The Pupil Personnel Services Credential Program offered at California State University, Long Beach plans to offer an Internship Program in cooperation with approved public school districts starting with the Fall Semester.

Purpose of the Program

The Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Internship Program provides an opportunity for selected qualified individuals to be employed as full-time counselors in approved public school districts and concurrently meet California State University, Long Beach requirements in professional education. The internship is for graduate students who have had considerable experience and demonstrated potential for functioning successfully as a counselor in a K-12 grade school, but have not completed the professional education courses required for the basic PPS credential. The internship requirements are consistent with the current basic PPS credential training program, but allow the student who (1) has been accepted into the Internship Program CSULB, (2) has complete 12 semester units of specified counselor core courses, and (3) has been selected by a designated school district to be eligible for the position of intern counselor.

Admission Criteria for the PPS Internship Program at CSULB

Each applicant for the Internship Program must file and meet both the standard set (1) in the official Application for Admission to the Counselor Education-School Psychology Program and (2) for Admission to the PPS Internship Program.

Once accepted for the Internship Program, each applicant must file an application for the Internship Credential with supporting documents and fees through the Credential Processing Office at CSULB. Each applicant for the Internship Program must:

1. hold a Baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution of higher education

8. pass the California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST);
9. verify experience in a school situation (some school districts give preference to students with teaching experience);
10. submit completed application for the PPS Internship Program for action by the Counselor Education-School Psychology Admissions Committee;
11. receive approval by CSULB and by the designated school district;
12. have an offer of employment on the Internship Credential by a designated school district;
13. submit complete application for the Internship Credential with supporting documents and fees; and
14. obtain a PPS Internship Credential prior to internship counseling.
