The ability to know when there is a need for information, to be able to identify, locate, evaluate, and effectively and responsibly use and share that information for the problem at hand The National Forum on Information Literacy
	Effectively defines the scope of the research question or thesis. Effectively determines key		